

Does God Speak to Me? How to Tune-in to God's Voice

Overview

This one-day program gives participants experience in a range of ways that God speaks to ordinary people who seek to tune in to the divine presence.

Intended Audience

Here is a retreat day that is ideal for a congregation as well as for any church committee or other group that focuses on spiritual growth or Christian education. It also works well as an offering for a retreat or conference center.

Summary of Content

In the course of the day, times to be together with the entire group interweave with opportunities to go off alone to engage with God through creative meditation activities, supplemented by snippets of time to exchange reflections with a partner. Singing of hymns from various traditions punctuates the day.
